Introducing Finastra’s enterprise customer advocacy program
What is Finastra OPEN VOICE?

Our customer advocacy program

At Finastra the voice of our customers is at the heart of everything we do. Our customers shape how we work, the solutions we produce and our purpose: unlocking the power of finance for everyone.

We believe in long-lasting relationships with our customers. By always putting you, our customers, first we aim to create engagements that are truly beneficial for all parties.

The Open Voice program has been created to offer you a platform to share your transformation stories, ideas and vision with the Finastra ecosystem. It gives you the opportunity to connect with other technology professionals and industry leaders, and raise your profile.

What does open mean to you?

At Finastra, we believe the best stories need to be grounded in truth. They can be large or small, but authenticity is everything. We know your peers want to hear your story and learn from your success. They don't just want an opinion on the technology, they want to understand how you're innovating, collaborating and transforming.

Whether you’re co-innovating with fintechs on our open platform or delivering greater financial transparency and inclusion through our latest solutions – we have a range of opportunities available to help you share your story.
Why collaborate?

Through both our range of opportunities and global reach, we can help you to:

- Communicate success internally
- Demonstrate thought leadership
- Strengthen partnership with Finastra
- Network with peers globally
- Gain exposure with key influencers
- Increase positive exposure for you and your organization

CIB Bank is pleased to participate in the Finastra Open Voice program. Together, we built a written case study, and I’m pleased to see the reach it’s had through Finastra’s channels. It’s truly been a mutually rewarding experience.

You as a thought leader

We want the experience to be both positive and rewarding.

Our professional storytellers can work with you to develop a flexible plan which aligns with your objectives, availability and corporate policy. And once the story is complete, we can promote your story to a wider audience across web, social media and events.

Most importantly, you have final approval of your story; nothing will be used without your permission.

How it works

We understand your time is precious, so we’ve kept the process as simple as possible.

1. Get started
Once you’ve agreed to a written story, we will happily work with your communications department (and any other internal groups you require) to maximize the benefit for both parties.

2. Tell your story
The most common formats are video and written stories. If it’s a written output, our writer will contact you to arrange an interview. This will take approximately 45 minutes and will cover your business transformation and the key messaging you would like to highlight. This can take place in whatever language you feel most comfortable; we’ll record the call to ensure our notes are accurate!

If it’s video, we’ll arrange a briefing call in advance and organize a convenient date, whether that’s in your office or at an event. We’ll then send a schedule and an outline of topics to be discussed on camera. The filming should take no longer than one hour, and if onsite, we’ll make every effort to keep disruption to a minimum.

3. Set it free
Once the story has been reviewed by Finastra, we will send you the draft for your review. We’ll then work through any feedback. Rest assured, no customer content is ever published without your approval.
