Document Imaging with ImageFlow

By incorporating this cutting-edge product into your lending business, you'll save time and increase loan production, eliminate storage space and gain the ability to securely access your documents any time, anywhere.”

Save time and operating costs by running a paperless office. Piles of paperwork can slow the lending process and add unnecessary costs to your budget.

Mortgagebot® ImageFlow—part of the end-to-end lending platform from Finastra—streamlines processing with completely paperless file management. By incorporating this cutting-edge product into your lending business, you'll save time and increase loan production, eliminate storage space and gain the ability to securely access your documents any time, anywhere.

How it works

ImageFlow's powerful search capability helps you quickly locate documents according to content, and helps keep you compliant by ensuring the proper management and control of your most critical documents. ImageFlow lets you route files to other users and investors in the required stacking order via PDF or TIF.

The Barcode Reading feature automatically sorts and indexes initial and closing documents. Automated user notifications alert users when documents have been received; these may be customized by user role and loan status. A simple
