How It Works

Build your own menu of products based on your needs. Assign products by channel, customize product eligibility and price adjustment rules, assign names and codes to products for clear identification. Create multiple price arrays allowing varied pricing across each channel, and set price adjustments as viewable or hidden to specific users.

Rate and rate sheet management is also simple—you can update rates at any time, provide real-time rates to each channel, upload rate sheets that are viewable outside of your product search, and control what products and rates a user sees.
