Analytics capability using data to drive growth

AnalyzerIQ is a native contextual insights and recommendation engine. It delivers business insights, predicts customer behavior to reduce churn, increases cross-selling opportunities, and provides an assessment of the firm's business and financial performance.

Make confident, data-driven decisions with AnalyzerIQ. By extracting meaningful insights from your data, decision-makers gain a clear view into product performance, customer behavior, branch operations, and overall profitability.

With access to pre-built reports and dashboards, such as Data Insights, Cross-Sell, Analysis Over Time, and Trending Report users can quickly uncover trends and opportunities.

AnalyzerIQ includes advanced machine learning capabilities, providing insight on lost households for example, that can be trained on bank data and can incorporate further models.

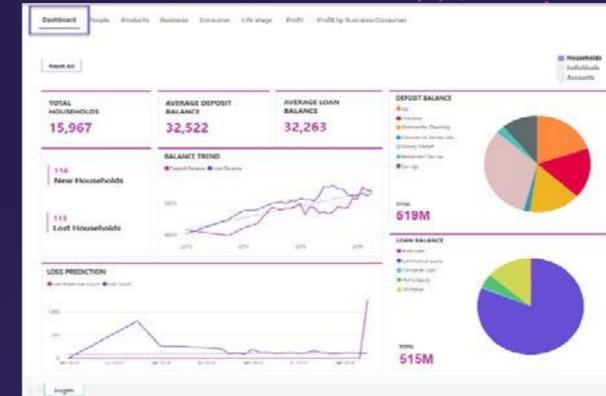

AnalyzerIQ combines demographic and behavioral insights to deliver precise propensity and share-of-wallet metrics across product categories – empowering financial institutions to pinpoint the most promising target audiences for every campaign.

AnalyzerIQ puts data-driven insights at your fingertips with a 360° view of customer households. Its Super Householding feature connects consumer and business relationships under one umbrella – delivering a unified, actionable perspective on each customer's full engagement with your institution.

AnalyzerIQ is a SaaS based tool which can be accessed from any Internet browser, no special hardware or software needed. Future releases are automatically updated for you!

Finastra securely hosts your data in its dedicated data centers, eliminating the need to allocate server space within your own infrastructure.

Enjoy the flexibility of daily data refreshes – automated and effortless, so your insights are always current without lifting a finger.

AnalyzerIQ empowers financial institutions to unlock deep insights from their core banking systems – integrating with platforms like Finastra Phoenix and many others. By tapping into the rich data within your core, you gain a clearer view of customer behavior, operational performance, and growth opportunities.

Built with open API technology, AnalyzerIQ also connects with MalauzAI Digital Banking, Constant Contact, and Hubspot enabling a unified data ecosystem that supports smarter decisions and faster innovation. Whether you're streamlining operations or enhancing customer experiences, AnalyzerIQ is your gateway to data-driven success.

Unlock the full potential of your data with these standout features from AnalyzerIQ:
